

2023 National Literary Competition Rules (Règlement du Concours littéraire national 2023)

1. Since 1978, the Ministry of Culture has organised an annual competition to encourage literary creation in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. The competition is open to authors and author collectives who hold Luxembourg nationality or who reside in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg or, where appropriate, have their permanent or predominant place of work, or, failing that, places of work at various locations in the territory of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

2. The 2023 National Literary Competition is reserved for screenwriting projects for a cinematographic and audiovisual work of fiction or animation or experimental work in Luxembourgish, French, German and/or English. There are two categories of prizes for the competition: one for adult authors from age 20 upwards, the other for young authors aged between 12 and 19.

3. Each author or author collective may submit only one manuscript. Screenplays for fiction, animation or experimental feature films with a minimum length/duration of 80 and a maximum length of 120 pages/minutes are eligible. Each author or author collective is free to choose the theme, language(s) and target audience of the screenplay they submit.

4. The screenplays must not have been previously published and may not yet have received any form of funding. They may not be published, distributed or funded by any means, in their entirety or in extracts, before the publication of the results of the competition via the official press release from the Ministry of Culture. Translations - even partial - of existing works are not allowed. In the case of adaptations, reference to the original work must be indicated on the first sheet of the manuscript.

5. The screenplays must be submitted bound in typed or printed form in a legible font.

6. Six copies of the manuscript must be sent to the Ministry of Culture no later than Monday, June 12, 2023, the closing day for applications, with proof via the postmark.

The submission must contain:

- a. 6 copies of the manuscript that must not bear any personal mark that would allow identification of the author or author collective. Only the title of the work, a pseudonym and the age category should be indicated on each copy.

- b. a small, sealed envelope bearing the following on the outside

- a pseudonym of choice and containing a card inside bearing

- the legitimate first and last name of the author/authors

A five-member jury will be appointed by the Minister of Culture from among experts in literature and film who have distinguished themselves in this field by their qualifications, publications or professional work. The jury will carry out their deliberations in secret. The jury will elect a president from among its members and will respect the general operating rules of the National Literary Competition jury, which may be requested from the ministry and is available on its website. No appeal against the jury's decisions will be accepted.

9. The secretariat of the jury will be a member of the staff working at the Ministry of Culture. The jury secretary will attend the jury sessions but will not intervene at any time in the deliberation or in the vote. The secretary will ensure compliance with the contest rules.

10. Members of the jury and staff working at the Ministry of Culture may not participate in the competition.

The envelopes and one copy of the manuscript will be placed in the archives of the National Literature Centre in Mersch and will remain inaccessible for 75 years. The other copies of the texts will be destroyed by the secretary of the jury.

13. The jury's decisions will be made public via a press release sent by the ministry of Culture, which will also be made available on its website <http://www.gouvernement.lu/mc>.
